"My brother helped people all his life"

Baron's condition continued to worsen and he was, when he was sedated and, to Beilinson Hospital, where heart-lung machine connected. This machine draws blood, oxygenates and pumps it back into the body, thereby bypassing the action of the heart and lungs. This device is a "bridge" of a few days, until .transplantation

Condition of Baron adds to deteriorate, and now his calls for the public to save his life: "My brother between life and death," said his brother, Avi Biton, "Our eyes doctors who are fighting to keep him alive. My brother man all his life helped and cared for the company. He served in the IDF" for, despite his blindness has helped " blind people and gave them a shoulder support and tools to deal with the difficulties in life

Unfortunately, over the past year were only eight heart transplants, due to the lower contribution rate in" Israel," says Beaton, "I appeal to families, unfortunately, their loved ones are in a position to organ donation to ".save lives, to agree to donate their organs and their loved ones continue to see some life in it
